This process shall be followed by Customer and the Airbus Helicopters shall ensure secured protection of the Data. This process may be modified from time to time by AIRBUS HELICOPTERS and an update will be available on the Customer Portal.

ARTICLE 2: Purpose

2.1 The purpose of this Agreement is to define the terms and conditions under which the Airbus Helicopters grant the Customer a free of charge access and use of the Customer Portal and propose Services through the Customer Portal.

2.2 Access to and use of Services may be subject to the Customer's acceptance of additional Specific Terms and Conditions.

2.3 The Customer Portal may be used by the Customer for the purpose of exchanging information with the Airbus Helicopters and entering into Contracts with Airbus Helicopters for certain Services.

2.4 The Customer Portal shall be used for professional or business purposes only, and the parties shall exchange Data through the Customer Portal only for such purposes. Activities directly or indirectly related to spamming or illegal, improper or unlawful purpose whatsoever are prohibited on the Customer Portal. In case of detection of such activity, Airbus Helicopters may suspend or terminate the access with no delay and without any prior notice nor any further action being necessary.

2.5 Orders placed through the Customer Portal

2.5.1 Orders placed to Airbus Helicopters: Orders placed by Customer through the Customer Portal shall be subject to: (I) the Airbus Helicopters Standard Conditions of Sale and the specific annex applicable to sale of Spare Parts as well as any specific conditions granted by Airbus Helicopters to the Customer, whichever is applicable; and (II) Price Catalog in effect when the order is placed; The purchase order will only be placed after acknowledgment of receipt sent by Airbus Helicopters and is subject to Airbus Helicopters' express approval.

2.5.2 Orders placed to Vendors other than Airbus Helicopters through the marketplace: Said orders will be placed directly to the Vendors under their own conditions of sale. The purchase order will only be placed after acknowledgment of receipt sent by the Vendor and is subject to the Vendor confirmation of its terms and its express approval.

Airbus Helicopters only acts as a mere technical intermediary and assumes no liability regarding the order entered into with the Vendor, the content of the order (including products and services subject of the order), nor the contractual consequences of such order that will be dealt with exclusively with Vendor.”

ARTICLE 3: Extent of Access to and Use of the Customer Portal

3.1 The Airbus Helicopters hereby grants to the Customer, a free of charge, worldwide, personal, non-exclusive and non-transferable right to access and use the Customer Portal and the Services, for the purposes identified in Article 2.3 and 2.4 above, pursuant to the terms and conditions, and for the duration of this Agreement. The Customer shall not fully or partially assign, sublicense, or subcontract any of its rights or obligations under this Agreement, without the prior written consent of Airbus Helicopters.

3.2 No right, other than that set forth in Article 3.1 above is granted to the Customer under this Agreement, and the Customer shall not, directly or indirectly, extract, reproduce, display, adapt, modify, or translate all or part of the Customer Portal, the System, or the Databases, nor create any derivative work there from, nor use any or all of any of the foregoing for any purpose other than those identified in Articles 2.3 and 2.4 above.

3.3 The Customer Portal, the System, the Databases, and the Airbus Helicopters' Data shall remain under the sole ownership of the Airbus Helicopters, or its respective licensors, whichever is applicable.

ARTICLE 4: Focal Points and Designated Users

4.1 The Customer shall be responsible for its employees' compliance with this Agreement, and more particularly the Focal Point(s) and the Designated Users. The Customer shall ensure, at its own expense, that the Focal Point(s) and the Designated Users are qualified and properly trained to perform all obligations as listed in this agreement for and on behalf of the Customer.

4.2 The Customer shall designate, one or more Focal Points who will act in its name of and under its responsibility.

4.3 The Customer undertakes to give his Focal Point(s) enough legal capacity to bind the Customer in the execution of any contractual document with respect to the performance of any obligation, related to the access, use, or operation of the Customer Portal.

4.4 4.5 Each and every access, use, and operation of the Customer Portal through online authentication by login and password, issued to a Designated User, shall be deemed to have been made by the Designated User to whom the access was issued.

4.6 The Customer shall ensure that:

(I) Each online authentication by login and password is used by, and remains with, one Designated User only;

(II) Each personal online authentication by login and password shall not be communicated to individuals other than the Designated User to whom it is assigned;

(III) Each Designated User accesses and uses the Customer Portal in strict compliance with this Agreement;

(IV) No third party shall be granted access to personal online login and password.

4.7 Should either Party reasonably believe that a risk exists that an online authentication by login and password has been or may be disclosed to anyone other than the Designated User to whom such login and password were assigned, the Focal Point(s) must immediately cancel the access to the Customer Portal under such authentication and notify Airbus Helicopters in writing: (1) that the Identification Code has been cancelled: and (2) of the scope of the perceived risk which led to such cancellation. The Focal Point(s) shall be obligated to take the foregoing action, notwithstanding any right of Airbus Helicopters to cancel such access.

4.8 In order to assure that access to the Customer Portal is limited to Designated Users with a legitimate need for access in order to accomplish permitted purposes, the Customer shall inform Airbus Helicopters immediately of: (I) any change in the employment status of the Focal Point(s) and/or Designated Users, including, without limitation, extended leave, reassignment, or resignation from the Customer; and (II) the termination or expiration of any and all Contracts, for the performance of which the Customer uses the Customer Portal. In any of these situations, the Customer shall immediately cancel the affected Designated User(s)'s access to the Customer Portal, notwithstanding any right of Airbus Helicopters to cancel such access, provided, however, that termination of some, but, not all of the Contracts described in item (III) shall not require the cancellation of access of any Designated Users who need to access the Customer Portal in connection with any pending Contracts.

4.9 Without prejudice to its other rights and without prior notice, Airbus Helicopters may restrict or suspend access to the Customer Portal, in whole or in part, by any or all of the Designated Users or Focal Point(s) if:

(I) Any Designated User or Focal Point fails to comply with any provision of this Agreement or with any applicable laws or regulations;

(II) Airbus Helicopters determines, in its sole discretion, that continued access by such Designated User(s) or Focal Point(s) presents a risk of harming the interests of Airbus Helicopters or may result in a breach of this Agreement, including, but not limited to, any confidentiality or security provision herein;

(III) Failing to do so would result in a violation by Airbus Helicopters of any of their respective contractual commitments with third parties or applicable laws or regulations.

ARTICLE 5: Access Requirements

5.1 The Customer, at its own costs and under its sole responsibility and liability, shall procure, install and maintain the information technology equipment necessary to access the System and the Customer Portal. The Customer shall ensure by employing state of the art means, that, no intrusion into the System or the Customer Portal by any third party and of viruses, logic bombs, worms, or the like is made possible from its equipment.

5.2 The Customer is responsible for obtaining and maintaining any relevant authorizations, and accomplishing any and all relevant formalities, as may be necessary under any applicable law for the Customer to have access to and benefit from the Customer Portal and will perform its own obligations under this Agreement and under any applicable laws and regulations.

5.3 For security purposes or any other reason, Airbus Helicopters may modify or require the Customer to modify any login and password used for online authentication, issued to it. Airbus Helicopters will inform the Customer of any such modification, or requirement therefore, as soon as practicable, and if the Customer is required to make such modification, it will inform Airbus Helicopters that the modification has been made as soon as practicable after the modification has been accomplished.

ARTICLE 6: Characteristics and Availability of the Customer Portal

6.1 Airbus Helicopters shall make reasonable efforts to provide the necessary means to make the Customer Portal accessible seven (7) days a week and twenty-four (24) hours a day. Should access to or use of the Customer Portal be interrupted, Airbus Helicopters will take all financially reasonable steps to restore the access to or use of the Customer Portal.

6.2 Notwithstanding the above, Airbus Helicopters may suspend at any time and without notice, temporarily or permanently and without incurring any liability whatsoever access to all or part of the Customer Portal:

(I) In order to proceed with any maintenance of the System or updating of the Customer Portal, the Databases, or the Data;

(II) For security reasons; or

(III) In order to comply with any law or regulation or any injunction or decision by any court, other tribunal, or government agency.

6.3 Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, should the Customer be unable for any reason to access the Customer Portal for more than twenty-four (24) consecutive hours or for a period which would prevent timely performance of a Contract requiring the use of the Customer Portal, the Customer shall notify Airbus Helicopters, and they shall determine together alternative solutions, including, but not limited to, the exchange of data.

ARTICLE 7: Confidentiality

Unless otherwise agreed upon in this Agreement or in the Contracts, all information made available by Airbus Helicopters through the Customer Portal shall be deemed confidential information (except for any information which may be accessed in the public area of the Customer Portal) and shall not be disclosed by the receiving Party to any third party and shall not be used for any purpose other than those identified in this Agreement. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that any breach of this provision could cause material damage to Airbus Helicopters that an action for damages may not be an adequate remedy for said breach, and that Airbus Helicopters may bring an action for equitable relief.

ARTICLE 8: Exchange of data

8.1 The Customer Portal enables the Customer and Airbus Helicopters to exchange or have access to the data, for the purpose of improving the Products, their reliability and availability and/or conducting business between them and/or the performance of Contracts. This Data exchange shall, at all times, comply with any regulation in force included the ITAR one regarding the exchange of Data that are subject to these regulations. The Customer shall assume all the consequences of such unlawful exchange each time he has initiated it. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all Information and/or data provided at the time of the connection on the Customer Portal are the sole responsibility of the person from which originated and Airbus Helicopters cannot and does not guarantee the content of the Information given by any Customer. Therefore, the Customer acknowledges and agrees that he is exclusively responsible for all Information/data that said Customer has emailed, transmitted, posted uploaded or otherwise made available, as well as for any errors or omissions in any of such Information/data. In particular, it will be the Customer's sole responsibility to comply with all applicable laws and regulations regarding export control.

8.2 The Customer shall have access to and use of Airbus Helicopters' data and Airbus Helicopters shall have access to and use of the Customer Data, solely to the extent, and pursuant to the terms and conditions of, this Agreement and/or the Contracts.

All data and analysis of such data are provided for the sole and exclusive internal use of Airbus Helicopters' customers. It is strictly forbidden to publish, disseminate, transfer and/or sell part or all of this material. Warning: The data in this tool has been obtained from sources deemed reliable however, it may have been corrupted during the transfer or the processing and as a consequence Airbus Helicopters cannot warrant or guarantee its total accuracy and shall have no liability whatsoever in that respect.

8.3 Except as otherwise agreed in this Agreement, the Customer, during the term of this Agreement and for internal and personal use only, may adapt, translate, make hard copies and/or numeric reproductions of Airbus Helicopters' Data received for the purposes identified in Articles 2.3 and 2.4 of this Agreement. Airbus Helicopters' data received for such purposes, and any hard copies and numeric reproductions made there from, may be processed by and circulated worldwide only to the employees of the Customer on a need-to-know basis and solely for the purposes identified in Articles 2.3 and 2.4 of this Agreement.

8.4 The parties shall ensure that all proprietary rights and confidentiality legends set forth on the original document are replicated on any reproduction, translation, or adaptation made thereof. Any translation or adaptation shall expressly state that it is a derivative from the original document. The parties shall refrain from removing or altering any such legend.

8.5 The Customer shall exercise due care and employ state of the art means to ensure that the Customer Data does not permanently or temporarily disturb the operation or the use of the System, the Customer Portal, or the Database.

8.6 The Customer shall immediately notify Airbus Helicopters of the occurrence or possible occurrence of any disturbance of the type referred to in Article 8.5 above.

If Airbus Helicopters becomes aware of any such disturbance, it may, without notice and without prejudice to its other rights, delete the Customer Data at issue from the System or cause it to be deleted from the System.

8.7 Communications and notices exchanged by the parties under this Agreement shall be deemed to be valid notices and accorded the same recognition and effectiveness as if transmitted by registered or certified email, return receipt requested.

8.8 If any invention or development is made by the Customer while accessing and using the Customer Portal or exchanging Data with Airbus Helicopters, then the rights of each Party with respect to such invention or development shall be determined pursuant to the applicable Contract or Specific Terms and Conditions, if any.

ARTICLE 9: Privacy

9.1 Personal Data Protection

Airbus Helicopters commits to upholding and enforcing the rules regarding the personal data protection of individuals with regard to the provisions of the January 6th, 1978 Act on Data Processing and Freedom and the General Data Privacy Regulation (REGULATION (EU) 2016/679 OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC.
